Re: WHERE HAVE ALL THE FLOWERS GONE? The Rise and Fall of Denver's Floral Industry by Rosemary Lewis

A family friend from the early days at St. John's Catholic school in Denver (mid 1950's) came across an article recently that reminded him of the Haley Family. We knew him as Billy Thomas, and all of us except Peggy (too young) remember him vividly.

After a little research, I found that the article appeared in the January-February 2009 issue of the Colorado Heritage magazine, a publication of Colorado Historical Society. Knowing of the Haley's deep involvement in the history of Denver's Floral Industry, Billy scanned the article and emailed it to us. The scanned image was too big to be emailing it to everyone in the Haley families, so someone suggested posting a copy of the article on the family web site known as Junglewood. So ...

You can click on the link in the Re: line of this memo to read the article. Most of you will recognize many of the names and companies. Very interesting reading!

Thanks for thinking of us, Billy!
